Overview

- This PCN is a Retraction for a previously issued PCN 514127 communicated on August 17th, 2023 for the following:
  - Need to change encapsulation material due to existing supplier needs to change formulation which requires UL recertification. New encapsulation material is already UL certified and in our UL files to use.
- The reason for this retraction is to avoid service disruptions, the timeline has been reduced for this PCN to implement the change sooner.
- If you are impacted on the new PCN you will be notified.
- No qualification reports, PPAP, or samples will be available for this change due to this retraction.
