Overview

- Change description: The new Minimum Order Quantity will be adjusted to align with the Global DU. This is just a system level correction, and this change only applies to the sales view and is in accordance with Molex's correct documentation procedures. The packing quantity will remain the same, and therefore, drop tests are not necessary based on this information.
- Product Impact
 - There will not be any impact to "Fit, Form or Functionality" of the product.
- Part Number Impact
 - Please see attached impacted parts list

Special Note: This is just a system correction to align the quantities with respect to site sales and global delivery units. Hence this doesn't involve any physical changes to box or quantity and no Drop test or qualification will be provided.
