Process Change Notice

Announcement Regarding Changes to the BSI logo on safety standard certified products for Disc Type Capacitors with Leads (High Voltage Ceramic Capacitors)

We are writing to inform you of a change to our product, Disc Type Capacitors with Leads (hereinafter referred to as "High voltage ceramic capacitors").

This change is being implemented to meet new regulatory requirements on the certification logo of BSI, one of the certification organizations for safety standard certified products of High voltage ceramic capacitors.

The following changes will be made:

- The new BSI logo will be printed on the certification label instead of printing on the product surface, because we cannot meet the size requirement of new logo against product itself.
- As for the products without the BSI logo on its surface, the new BSI logo will be printed on the certification label.

We have attached a detailed information below for your reference.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding this announcement, please do not hesitate to contact.

Regarding this changing, please inform us if you have any problems within November 2025. If there is no feedback or inquiry, we will start shipping under the new condition after the schedule below.

Thank you for your understanding and continued partnership.

Sincerely,

— Announcement —
