

Rocker Switches

CW Industries offers a wide variety of rocker and other switches. All have common family traits: Superior quality, reliability, customization capability, agency approvals, and the economies of fully automated production.

CW also manufactures several lines and styles of electrical connectors that are used in a wide variety of products. CW products are available through a nationwide network of stocking distributors and value-added assembly centers. These centers can deliver 100% pre-tested assemblies made to your specifications as well as individual components.
